LARGE CLASS TO GRADUATE THIS SPRING

Eighty Students of Newark High to Receive Diplomas—Preparations for Commencement Week.

Preparations are nearing completion for events attending the largest graduation in the history of the Newark public schools, when a class numbering about 80 students will be awarded diplomas. Events are already shaping themselves for a large attendance at each of the public gatherings incidental to commencement.

The week's activities will begin formally with the baccalaureate sermon, which is to be delivered to the students assembled in the high school auditorium, Sunday, June 8, by Rev. J. Bohan Schmitt, pastor of the English Lutheran church of Newark.

An event of the week will be the class play, to be given by members of the graduating class, Tuesday, June 10, in the auditorium of the high school building. The vehicle selected for displaying histrionic ability of the students is entitled, "The Weaker Sex."

Class Day exercises, open to the public, as usual will be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 11, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The complete program for commencement, Thursday evening of the same week, will be announced within a few days. Black caps and gowns will be worn this year by the graduates, who have selected a style designed for high school commencement, and somewhat similar to the collegiate caps and gowns.

GROCERY CLERKS WILL ORGANIZE A LOCAL UNION

A gathering of grocery clerks met Tuesday night in the convention room of the court house to take steps toward organizing the local grocery clerk's union. Definite action was postponed, however, until a better attendance could be had.

It is said there is a movement on foot among clerks, backed to quite an extent by several Newark grocers themselves, to organize for the purpose of aiding the Thursday afternoon closing scheme. Notice had been served on several prospective members of the organization of clerks that the meeting Tuesday night would be for the purpose of organizing and electing officers to a local union. Encouragement from a number of grocery proprietors has given the movement an impetus it is said, and another meeting will be held at an early date to carry out the plan of organization.

CHALLENGES NEWARK TEAMS.

In a letter to the sporting editor of the Advocate, George A. Perkins, 773 Buckingham street, Columbus, states that the K. L. of S. baseball club challenges any baseball team in Newark at any time. Perkins adds that his team is a fast bunch and is outfitted with new uniforms.

THESE FIGURES SHOW BIG GROWTH OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Three score years ago Mr. T. V. Sullivan, a sea-captain, organized in Boston a new business, modeled after something he had heard existed in England. It was different from any American business then in existence. The new venture began in a very small way, with practically no capital and no backing. As it became a demonstrated success, capital came to it and men of affairs became interested in its management.

Today this organization has thousands of employees. It has 2,196 offices in almost as many American cities. Its expenses are more than $10,000,000 a year. It has recently erected a building in Chicago worth $300,000, one in New York costing $400,000, and another in Cleveland valued at $950,000. It is building an office building in Atlanta at a cost of $442,000, another in Philadelphia valued at $687,000, and a third in Boston at an expenditure of $1,300,000. For five years this corporation has been erecting branch houses at the rate of one every six days. All told, it owns 725 buildings. Its real estate is worth $70,000,000 and it has maintenance funds of $14,000,000 more, giving it a total capital of $84,000,000. The name of this organization is the Young Men's Christian Association. Its business is the conservation of America's manhood—World's Work.

FORMER RESIDENT, W. DEVOE INK DIES AT VAN WERT, O.

Newark friends were shocked Tuesday by word received from Van Wert, O., telling of the death of W. Devoe Ink, a former resident of this city. His death occurred at his home at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, following a brief illness of peritonitis.

Last fall Mr. Ink was seized with a similar attack but apparently recovered. A week ago Tuesday, relatives here received word that he was again seriously ill and the announcement of his death came yesterday.

Mr. Ink came to Newark four or five years ago from Mansfield and while here was employed at the Ed. Doe clothing store. He resided in Columbia street with his wife and two children, Desmond and Devera, who, with his parents and several brothers and sisters, survive.

Mr. Ink was prominent in the organization of the Matinee Club several years ago and was one of its officers. He was fond of matinee racing and developed a couple of fast matinee horses.

According to information received here, the body was taken to Mansfield Wednesday and the funeral party will go to Lexington Thursday for the funeral services.

Mrs. Ink's parents reside on the Hildenbrand farm north of the city. They went to Van Wert last week. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kerr of Linden avenue will go to Lexington Thursday to attend the funeral services.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION WILL HEAR BURKE CASE

The hearing of the charges against Charles O. Burke, city patrolman, who yesterday was censured by Safety Director C. H. L. following a hearing before that officer, will take place before the civil service commission next Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Burke was charged with speaking disrespectfully of a superior, disobedience of orders, and drinking on duty. The first charge was dismissed and the last two sustained in the safety director's finding yesterday and the patrolman ordered dismissed.

Mr. Burke's attorneys, Messrs. Fitzgibbon, Smythe and Russell, immediately announced that the case would be laid before the commission. It is expected at that time that witnesses will be called to testify for the defendant. No testimony was offered yesterday by Burke's attorneys, they depending on the failure of the city to prove its case.

They also challenge the safety director's jurisdiction in the matter, holding that he has no right to file the charges, hear the testimony and pass judgment.

The civil service commission consists of Messrs. I. M. Phillips, president, E. Carey Norris and Walter Symons. Ray Martin is clerk.

MRS. HOPEY WILL DELIVER ADDRESS ON FOUNDER'S DAY

A feature of the celebration of Founder's Day at Shepardsen college, Saturday, May 31, will be an address to be delivered by Mrs. James R. Hopely of Bucyrus, O., a former Granville woman and former president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Hopely will speak on "What Women Have Done in History." Following the address a reception is to be tendered Mrs. Hopely in Stone Hall at 9 o'clock, when friends of the institution will be welcomed by Dean Loveridge and members of the committee. During the evening's program, music will be furnished by the Shepardsen and Denison Glee clubs. Mrs. Hopely's address is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock in Recital hall.

Founder's Day is significant in a double sense in that this is the centenary year of its founder, the elder Doctor Shepardsen, who was born July 27, 1813.

AMONG SHOPMEN.

Lucius Sullivan, 74 German street, machinist apprentice, has been ill since Saturday and is off duty as a consequence.

Charles Korzenborn, 178 Valandingham street, machinist, has been off duty since Monday on account of illness.

Robert Anderson, 500 Arlington avenue, a carpenter, has suffered a relapse from an injury to his foot a week ago and is off duty.

Frank Swack, 40 Wing street, machinist, has been ill since Monday and is off duty.

CENTENNIAL.

Misses Mabel and Marle Riley, Gertrude Alsapach and Mr. Harry Powers spent Sunday at the home of Hugh and Bernice Claggett.

Mrs. Bessie Green and children and Miss Cora Hoar of Mt. Vernon, are spending a few days with relatives at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Alsapach, Mrs. Albert Riley and Mrs. Angelina Riley attended the funeral of Harry Price at Chatham Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Riley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Haas.

Misses Gertrude and Gladys Alsapach spent part of last week in Newark at the home of their sister, Mrs. F. M. Toothaker, and attended the Sunday school convention.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Alsapach and son, Miss Mary Eagle, Mr. S. W. Haas and son Laurence, and Miss Gladys Alsapach were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Haas Sunday.

Common Pleas Court.

In common pleas court Wednesday the court heard the testimony and the case of John H. Swisher vs. Harry Swisher. Several matters in the report of the Receiver of the partnership property were submitted to the court, the question being as to the proper party to pay the same, the principal items being those embraced in the salesman's expense account during the time the receiver was in charge.

The petit jurors were excused until June 4th.

On Tuesday morning in common pleas court the court heard the evidence in the case of A. S. Clark vs. A. D. Flemming. The plaintiff brings suit to recover the sum of $48 for commission on the sale of real estate. Mr. Clark claims that he produced a buyer for defendant's property and for which services he was to receive a commission of two per cent. The defendant, Flemming, denies that Clark produced the purchaser.

The trial of the case of State of Ohio ex rel. Belle Humphreys vs. Luther Davis was passed until later date in the term. The defendant asked for a postponement on the ground of the absence of material witnesses.

MT. VERNON HI'S CRACK PITCHER HERE THURSDAY

Pitcher Norrick of Mt. Vernon High school will be in Newark on Thursday to win his usual victory. His press agents at Mt. Vernon have heralded his ability as a pitcher, which heraldry has been amply supported by Norrick's achievements. He will be accompanied by a number of other players whose duty it is to fill several positions on the diamond. The game was originally scheduled for Wednesday afternoon but Mt. Vernon requested a change in the date.

DR. C. J. BALDWIN'S RESIGNATION WILL TAKE EFFECT SEPT. 1.

The resignation of Dr. C. J. Baldwin, as pastor of the Baptist church of Granville, announcement of which was made in Tuesday's Advocate, brought a sense of great loss to his congregation, to the student body of Denison University and to Granville residents generally.

Dr. Baldwin's resignation was handed to the board, owing to incapacitation due to ill health. It will probably be accepted, the same to become effective on September 1. No action will be taken on the appointment of his successor until later in the summer.

Dr. Baldwin brought to Granville much pride in their possession of him as the occupant of the pulpit of the Baptist church for he was conceded by all to be the ablest speaker of the Baptist denomination in the country. Dr. Daniel Shepardsen, founder of Shepardsen College paid him the highest tribute when he said: "Dr. Baldwin, as a pulpit worker, has no superior in the Baptist denomination, and I have heard them all."

The resignation of this beloved pastor comes after a continuous service of love and labor of 27 years. Dr. Baldwin was born in Troy, N. Y. He entered Colgate University in New York City, but which was then known as Madison University. His was the class of '65, but with his class in '64 he left to fight on the battlefield for his country and during the civil war was a member of General Sherman's staff. He received his degree of Doctor of Divinity in '65 while on the field. At the close of the war Dr. Baldwin completed his work for the ministry in the Rochester Theological Seminary at Rochester, N. Y.

It was at the completion of his school work that Dr. Baldwin accepted his first charge, in the city of Chelsea, Mass., where he worked for six years. In 1874 he was called as pastor of the First church of Rochester, N. Y., where he remained until 1886. The fame of Dr. Baldwin as a pulpit orator had been established and offers were made him to occupy the pulpits of larger churches. But the health of Dr. Baldwin impeded his work, and he came to Granville only under the condition that he be relieved of all parish work, and that he be spared all the executive burdens of the church. This was done and Dr. Baldwin took up his work in Granville in 1886, continuing it for 27 years.

Dr. Baldwin was married in Rochester, N. Y., to Miss Adelaide Postdick, and to this union were born three children. Prof. James F. Baldwin who occupies the chair of history in Vassar college; Rev. Arthur J. Baldwin, pastor of the First Baptist church of Fall River, Mass., and Miss Helen Baldwin, who is a member of the high school faculty of Joliet, Ill.

Surrounded by those who have grown to love him, during the long years of his pastorate Dr. Baldwin will retire from the active work as pastor. His retirement brings only regret for the place he occupied was made by his own ability and kindness and it will be hard to fill. Also Dr. Baldwin has written two books, "The Book of Sermons," published in '95, and "The First American" and other biographical sketches, both of which have received the highest of testimonials.

Several names have been mentioned in connection with the pastorate of the Baptist church, but no decision will be made until later.

To Attend Commencement. Mrs. Mary Long, Miss Anna Sader and Miss Florence Long left today for Columbus to attend the graduating exercises of the Starling-Ohio Medical University. Among the graduates is Frank Murphy, a nephew of Mrs. Long. Mr. Murphy is a resident of Marion, O.

Instant Postum

Is in thousand of homes where health is valued.

Former coffee users who have felt the pinch of indigestion, headache, heart disturbance, nervous irritation, etc., have written by the score, telling of remarkable benefits following the change from coffee to Instant Postum.

A level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things, put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

"Thanks for the sample of Instant Postum sent me. I had been drinking coffee for a long time and thought it would be difficult to give it up, but I was mistaken."

"While I was drinking coffee I always felt exhausted and I weighed but 112 lbs. After using Instant Postum I soon recovered and now am as healthy as any person can be. I now weigh 120 lbs. and am steadily gaining in weight." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water.

Both kinds are sold by grocers everywhere.

Instant Postum

Is in thousand of homes where health is valued.

Former coffee users who have felt the pinch of indigestion, headache, heart disturbance, nervous irritation, etc., have written by the score, telling of remarkable benefits following the change from coffee to Instant Postum.

A level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

"Thanks for the sample of Instant Postum sent me. I had been drinking coffee for a long time and thought it would be difficult to give it up, but I was mistaken."

"While I was drinking coffee I always felt exhausted and I weighed but 112 lbs. After using Instant Postum I soon recovered and now am as healthy as any person can be. I now weigh 126 lbs and am steadily gaining in weight." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water.

Both kinds are sold by grocers everywhere.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

THE GOOSEBONE PROPHECY

A man must read each twig and weed it had to tell the weather. But Uncle Sam still keeps his ham cyclone and rain discharger; the goosebone seed tell well what he can't be any worse.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 28.—[Special].—The churches are interesting themselves in opposition to Philippine independence. Not only the Catholic church, which has such large interests on account of the number of people who belong to that organization in the islands, but the other church people, through the ministers, are making their wishes known, which is to the effect that they want the Philippines retained. One of them wrote to Speaker Clark about it not long ago and received a characteristic reply.

"The Baltimore platform," wrote Champ, "emphatically declared in favor of Philippine independence. Every Democratic platform since the islands were acquired has made the same declaration. Your time to protest was before election. You have lost your day in court. Our duty is plain. We must carry out our promises."

Must Keep at It.

If a man wants to accomplish anything in congress he must keep everlastingly at it. I happen to have three examples.

Senator Kern began long ago with a resolution to have the labor troubles in West Virginia investigated. He was pushed aside from time to time. Other important matters intervened, and there were many delays. But the Indiana senator did not become discouraged. He kept right on the job. His resolution was referred, but he had it brought back, and he made it go. Senator Ashurst of Arizona has started after the armor plate trust. He began with the opening of the session. He has advanced by easy stages, but he keeps hammering away. Senator Martine of New Jersey has determined that washed money shall be discontinued. He has kept the matter going, and although he is several laps behind his persistent fellow senators, he will get some sort of show.

Information in Print.

There has been a tremendous demand on the part of the Republicans for information on the tariff before action is taken. We who have watched the game rather suspect that there is some "bluff" in the demands and that they are made more for the purpose of embarrassing the Democrats than because real information is sought.

There are tons of matter in printed form relating to the tariff. Besides, just think of the speeches delivered in the house. Every man in the house knows that he is a tariff expert. The fact is we have too much printed information and not enough carefully digested facts.

Same Regarding Currency.

"Where can I get information on the currency?" asked Congressman Bob Henry of Texas. "I have a book."

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Suggestions For Sleep.

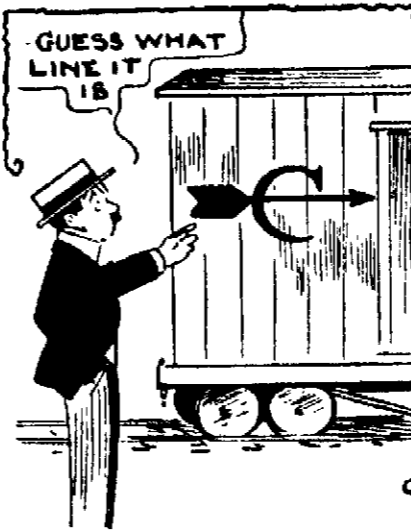

The bedroom should be well ventilated, a window being kept open all night, if that can be managed without a draft playing upon the sleeper. Where there is a chance of drafts ventilation may be safely accomplished by inserting a board six inches broad so as to raise the lower sash and fill the gap completely. Air then enters between the sashes in an upward direction and becomes diffused in a harmless fashion.

About his bed, bedclothes and pillow the sufferer from insomnia must not dognatize, but try experiments. Sometimes an extra high pillow does the trick. The covering should not be excessive, but the feet must be kept warm—by an elderdown across them, a hot bottle or bed socks—since chilly extremities are fatal to sleep. The same latitude must be allowed in regard to supper. Sometimes no supper is best, sometimes a light supper rather more than an hour before retiring, sometimes a glass of hot milk or hot gruel when one is actually in bed.

A short, smart walk before bedtime enables many folks to slip into dreamland. For others a hot footbath is better. Still more obstinate cases will yield to the soothing effect of a complete hot bath, with or without some mustard.

The production of copper has trebled in the last 20 years.

WHAT IS IT?

What girl's name? Answer to Tuesday's puzzle—Trescott.

warmly welcomed the young men and disregarded the protest. But it is being pushed in public and private and the effect is made to produce a judgment that these young men are heretics and that the church ought not to receive them as preachers of Christ.

"Well, whatever comes of the protest, I wish to take my stand with these young men. They are my brothers in the faith. If they are unfit for the ministry I am unfit."

Following House Example.

The Democrats of the senate have been following the house example in distributing the different schedules among different members. When the tariff bill is considered in the senate each man handling a separate schedule is expected to defend it, as was done in the house. It worked very satisfactorily in the house, but in the senate with wide latitude of debate, it may be different.

Dr. van Dyke Challenges Presbyterian Church

Dr. Henry van Dyke, professor of literature at Princeton University, and long a prominent Presbyterian, has challenged his church organization to "try a grown man" for what some members call heresy, rather than his son, who has just been ordained.

Young Tertius van Dyke and three other graduates of the Union Theological Seminary of New York, which has long had differences with its church, were ordained with Dr. Paul van Dyke, the uncle and Dr. Henry van Dyke, the father, officiating. During the remarks of Dr. Paul van Dyke, tears streamed down the face of the father. In his address the latter had this to say about charges of heresy:

"You know that a new attempt has been made lately in the Presbyterian church to exalt the letter above the spirit in judging of the fitness of men for the Christian pulpit. Four true-hearted and devoted young men, among whom is my dear son, who is to be ordained tonight, have offered their lives to the service of Christ in the ministry. They have confessed their faith in God the Father as the almighty ruler of the universe, in the Holy Spirit speaking in the Bible as the supreme authority in matters of religion, and in Jesus Christ as the Divine Redeemer. But their acceptance because they cannot give a literal affirmation to certain test questions proposed by a theological inquisitor."

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Rock Gave Credit Where It Was Due.

The story hour was at hand, and Jack and Evelyn with it.

"A story for two," laughed daddy as he saw them coming. "Very well. Now, sit down and listen while I tell you about the big gray rock that stood in the field bare and ugly and alone."

"Every one who passed said, 'Oh, dear, how that ugly rock spoils the looks of the nice field!'"

"The rock would have liked to be handsome and admired like the flowers and the grasses and the trees, but he was just a plain gray rock, and could not help it."

"If only nice plants grew over my big bare sides I would not seem so homely," the rock told the brook. But there was no earth on the rock in which the plants could take root."

"One day the brook as it came babbling by said: 'Friend, far up the stream there is a wonderful little plant that grows on rocks such as you. Some day I am going to try to bring some down here to you. Perhaps then it may take a fancy to grow on your sides and you will look very different.'

"And one day the brook pushed and floated a piece of stone down the stream and lodged it just beside the big gray rock."

"There," said the brook, "just look at that piece of stone! It broke off and fell into the water yesterday, so I've just floated it down to you. The big rock of which it was a part is covered with that green stuff. They call it moss."

"The big gray rock was greatly pleased. The brook swept the stone as close to it as possible, and the rock said to the green moss:

"Those come up here and grow on me."

"Soon a faint green began to color the gray sides of the stone, and persons who had said, 'What an ugly old rock that is!' turned to notice it."

"Day by day the green became deeper until in time the rock was covered with a thick velvety coating of moss."

"Then in the soft moss the seeds of little wild flowers carried there by the wind, by insects or birds took root, and lovely flowers grew out of the crannies. The friendly little brook trickled around it, and soon handsome ferns sprang up about the rock."

"People now began to come from far and near to see it. 'What a beautiful old rock it is!' they would exclaim."

"But the old gray rock—he was a very honest rock—said: 'No, indeed; I am just as I was. If there is anything to admire it is the moss and flowers and the ferns, my kind friends, who have so kindly hidden the ugliness of a plain old rock from sight.'"

ON SECOND THOUGHT

It is Buck Kilby's notion that entertainment's most feeble expression is an Indian dance.

Talk to any woman with a grown son and she will tell you she married when a mere child.

More women could imitate the robin to advantage. In robin families the lady robin helps find the worms.

A man not only will sing without much urging, but, if no one volunteers to do it, he will also play his own accompaniments.

When a man starts to tell a story he proceeds by the most direct route, but a woman backs into it.

The idea of women police is nothing new. Every community is policed by women gossip, and the people fear them more than they fear the regularly constituted authority.

About the only way a man can secure the sympathy of the public is to become the underdog in a fight.

Life is so dull and devoid of interesting incident that when the wind blows a man's hat off a dozen other men stand ready to chase it for him.

Wonderful Treatment For Corns Callouses and All Sore Feet

Millions of people who endure daily torture from sore feet will welcome the information that there is now a simple treatment that positively and quickly cures foot ailments of all kinds. You can say goodbye to corns and callouses; bunions; swollen, aching, hot, inflamed, and sweaty feet. This treatment works right through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Use it once and your feet feel delightful; use it for a week and your foot troubles will be a thing of the past. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calceide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." Amazing results follow. Calceide was formerly confined to doctors' use but now any druggist will supply it. If he does not have it in stock he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is said to be enough to put the worst feet in fine condition.

LOOK YOUNGER! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Says Sage and Sulphur Will Stop Falling Hair and Cure Dandruff.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, senary and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

ed," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not social, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and it surely helps folks appear years younger. Hall's Drug Store, 10 North Side Square, agent.

ROOSEVELT

said the court. "I suggest that it stop right here."

The inquiry along this line accordingly was dropped. "I will ask you if in 1912 and for some time prior to it there was not a general report among newspaper men that Colonel Roosevelt drank to excess?" asked Attorney Belden.

"O'Loughlin, shaking his finger at the lawyer, replied:

"There was not a reputable correspondent in Washington, but who thought the report was silly; too absurd to be regarded or repeated."

Counsel on both sides were on their feet with regard to this reply, and the jury was excluded.

Attorney Pound said he found the answer "embarrassing" and Belden explained that he proposed to show what newspapers had to say on the subject.

The answer was stricken out by order of the court. The lawyers then suggested in the absence of the jury that the legal question of the admissibility of testimony touching on "general" reports that Colonel Roosevelt uses liquor to excess be settled.

Attorney Belden stated it was the intention of the defense to ask future witnesses in an attempt to show the contention of the defense that there was in existence a general report amounting to a general reputation, that Colonel Roosevelt does use liquors and some time to excess; that these reports were published in newspapers, and that Colonel Roosevelt read these reports and this charge had never been contradicted by him; the defendant published the report of the former president's reputed excessive use of intoxicants, believing it to be true and not with any malice.

Mr. Belden maintained that such testimony was required to show the good faith and absence of malice in the publication of the defendant's editorial. It could not be, in the presence of widespread comment by the public and in important newspapers, stated the lawyer, that Mr. Roosevelt had been greatly damaged by the repetition of charges of intoxication in a remote weekly with a circulation of about 3,000 copies.

"We propose to show," continued the lawyer, "that such charges as were made in the Iron Ore, were by no means confined to this region. The plaintiff during 1912 was the most talked of man in the United States and we expect to introduce testimony to show that adverse comment as to his habits were made in other parts of the country. This point bears strongly in showing the absence of malice on the part of the defendant."

"In the declaration to this suit the plaintiff not only included the question of his use or non-use of liquors but also that of his general reputation," said Mr. Belden.

The attorneys read from the declaration quoting that Colonel Roosevelt "never had been suspected of drinking alcoholic liquors to excess."

On this basis, he said, the defense would claim the right to bring out testimony on Colonel Roosevelt's reputation in various parts of the country. The purpose of the defense as claimed by Colonel Roosevelt's attorneys was to prevent exclusion of "hearsay" testimony throughout the trial.

The court asked Mr. Belden whether the defense would combat the position of the plaintiff that malice in the publication of the article was a basis for damages. Mr. Belden answered that malice undoubtedly would increase the basis for damages and the defense would combat the attitude of the plaintiff.

Attorney Pound here rose and said: "At first I wanted to sue for $50,000 but Colonel Roosevelt insisted that the amount asked for should be nominal. He did not want to be vindictive but wanted merely damages for the publication of a falsehood."

It was stated by Mr. Belden that the pecuniary damages in this case under the law might be any sum from six cents to $50,000, regardless of the amount asked in the suit.

Whether the alleged libel was true or not, Mr. Belden argued, the defendant believes the article to be true and did not publish it out of malice.

Colonel Roosevelt, said he would not oppose the attitude of the defense that the admission of so-called hearsay evidence, bearing upon the Colonel's reputation as to liquor was merely to mitigate damages. He contended however, that such evidence should not be admitted until it should first be proved that the defendant knew of the reports before he published the articles and believed them to be true and based his articles on them, believing them to be true.

"Under the position of the defense," argued Mr. Pound, "a man may be as pure as St. Paul and his reputation may be ruined in a moment by a lot of gossip. Two points attempted by the defense are incompatible. You cannot mitigate and deny at the same time."

Argument on the point was still in progress when court recessed for luncheon.

Frank Harper, a Chicago attorney, now in this city, last night received a telegram asking him to arrest James Martin Miller, if he should appear in Marquette. The telegram said that Miller was wanted in New York on a charge of grand larceny and was signed "J. P. Reynolds."

Miller was one of the forty persons who signed depositions for the defendant, George A. Newett, in the Roosevelt libel suit.

Attorney Horace Andrews of the defense said that Miller could not be brought here as a witness as he was beyond the jurisdiction of Judge Flanagan's court and that the defense had by no means settled on what depositions would be introduced in evidence.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Marquette, Mich., May 28.—Former members of his cabinet, his intimate friends and men who were associated with him in his travels in this and foreign lands were to testify today on behalf of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in his libel suit against George A. Newett, owner of an Ishpeming newspaper which published an editorial accusing Colonel Roosevelt of being drunk.

Today it was expected, would be devoted entirely to the oral testimony of Colonel Roosevelt's witnesses. These include Robert Bacon, former secretary of state; Truman H. Newberry, former secretary of the navy; Gifford Pinchot, James R. Garfield, Regis H. Post, former governor of Porto Rico; Lawrence Abbott, W. Emmen Roosevelt, William Loeb, jr., and newspaper correspondents who have accompanied the Colonel on many of his campaign trips.

All of these witnesses are to testify as to Colonel Roosevelt's habits with reference to liquor in his official and private life.

James H. Pound, chief counsel for the plaintiff, made it known that many depositions are to be read after the hearing of oral testimony, which precluded the possibility of completing the case on behalf of Colonel Roosevelt before tomorrow. Such depositions as already have been read indicate that much time will be taken up with the lengthy depositions yet to come because of the probability of legal arguments over technical points involving the admissibility of evidence. Court will take a recess over Friday on account of it being a legal holiday.

Many of the attorneys believe the case cannot go to the jury before the middle of next week.

HIGHWAYS WILL SUFFER IF TAX IS ABOLISHED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, May 28.—Township trustees are writing to the secretary of state from many parts of the state, asking if the $2 poll tax for repairing township roads is still in effect, and whether persons who have worked on the roads are entitled to credit on their taxes. Attorney General Hogan ruled some time ago that this tax was wiped out by the constitutional amendment adopted last fall.

The general complaint is that unless the tax can be collected or work can be ordered done on the roads that the highways will suffer for want of repair, as limited levies don't make enough for upkeep.

Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only expensive, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are benefited, but few can afford to go. Eckman's Alternative is effective for home treatment. For example:

231 N. Atlantic Ave., New York, N. Y. "Gentlemen, in the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold, which settled on my lungs. At last I began to cough and spit, and my chest then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alternative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now five years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alternative too highly. I have recommended it with excellent results."

(Signed) W. M. TATEM.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recovery and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists in Newark.

Knots and Hours.
Nine persons out of ten will say that such and such a steamship is capable of steaming at "twenty-five knots per hour." A nautical man would simply say "twenty-five knots." Now, which is correct? The latter, of course. The mistake arises from the fact that the landsman thinks that a "knot" is just the nautical term for a "sea mile," which is, roughly, 6,080 feet, or about one and one-eighth land or statute miles. Now, a knot is not a distance at all; it is a speed. The word "speed" combines distance and time. For instance, if we wish to speak of the speed of a train we refer to it as so many miles per hour. There is no single word in the language to express speed limits, so we must use two words—miles and hour.

The sailor has a language peculiar to himself, and he has invented a single word for a unit of speed. Thus a speed of one nautical mile per hour is called one "knot." Hence it is redundant to tack on another "per hour" after the word knot when the word already includes one "per hour."—London Tit-Bits.

Some Shots at "Haste."
Hurry usually leads to error. The motto of Baron Plunkett was "Hasten slowly." Churchill said, "The more haste ever the worst speed." Boileau, "Hasten slowly and without losing heart put your work twenty times upon the anvil." "Haste maketh waste," said Heywood. "I am always in haste, but never in a hurry," is from John Wesley. Richard III. mumbled, "Sweet flowers are slow and weeds make haste." He would have made a successful farmer. This is Seneca: "Haste trips up its own heels, fetters and stops itself." Tennyson, "Raw haste, half sister to delay."

Life for delays and doubts no time does give. None ever yet made haste enough to live. That bright couplet was written by Cowley. Listen to Bulwer-Lytton: Business dispatched is business well done. But business hurried is business ill done.

Women Soldiers.
In several cases Prussian women were most capable as soldiers, able to command and ready to obey, as well as being able to withstand the hardships of campaigning. To cite some instances, Maria Warden, a woman of Silesia, was allowed to serve as a busser in the same regiment as her husband, who was a wealthy landowner. She was wounded in several engagements and saw her husband shot dead by her side at Leipzig.

Eleonora Prochaska is one of the better known of these heroines. She engaged under the name of Carl Renz in the Light horse when only eighteen, and several poets have written of her courage and of her death just before the battle of Leipzig. A monument stands to her memory in the cemetery at Potsdam.—London Standard.

Seal Stair Builders.
How seals cut steps in the perpendicular sides of ice cakes in order to rise from the water for the purpose of breathing has been recorded by members of Captain Scott's antarctic expedition. It was discovered that the seals, which formerly were supposed to leave the water by leaping, actually cut steps in the slippery surface with the great canine or eye teeth. As soon as the teeth are placed in position the head is moved rapidly from side to side until the ice has been cut away sufficiently to afford a footing for the front flippers of the animal. Each step has to be laboriously cut after this fashion until the body is far enough out of the water to be thrust up the rest of the way by a kick of the hind flippers.—New York Press.

First Brides to Cross the Rockies.
Marcus Whitman, M. D., who saved Oregon to the United States, was born Sept. 2, 1802, at Rushville, N. Y. He married Miss Narcissa Prentiss of Angelen, N. The brides were the first women to cross the Rocky mountains. They made the journey of 3,500 miles in seven months.

Time He Quit.
"See here, young man," said the angry father, "how many times have I told you that I don't want you to call on my daughter?"

"Oh," replied the suitor coolly, "about twenty."

"Well," said the exasperated parent, "don't you think that's about enough?"

"Yes, I do," was the reply. "When are you going to quit?"—Magazine of Fun.
